CONTINENTAL TELEPHONE SEEKS RATE INCREASE

residences.

"These rates," Beydler explained, "are designed to bring the charges more in line with the actual cost of providing the service."

The filing also would establish group rates throughout Continental's Virginia service area. Under this concept, uniform rate schedules are established for customers according to the number of main station telephones that can be called without a long distance charge. Higher rates are charged for those areas having the ability to call the most phones.

The combined changes would provide an additional $7.4 million in annual revenues; however, of every additional dollar collected, nearly 50 cents is paid out in Federal income taxes.

Beydler explained that there has not been a general rate adjustment in the Western District in more than five years. "And I needn't remind anyone about what inflation has done to our costs of living during these last few years. What we pay for vehicles, telephone poles and other equipment has increased just as steeply as the costs of food, shelter and clothing.

"True, our income has also increased during this period, but the more dramatic fact is that our expenses have increased at a faster rate. For example, our total expenses have gone up more than 81%. The biggest single contributor to this increase was what the company must pay in interest on money borrowed to finance construction. In the last four years, the cost of that money has gone up 103%. And it must be remembered that all of this was happening while our basic rate structure remained relatively unchanged," he said.

Another substantial increase occurred in what the company must spend to maintain its communications equipment, a category which has climbed more than 101%.

Another major increase came in the dollars invested to improve service. According to Beydler, the company has spent more than $106 million in the last four years for new offices, improved equipment, facilities to provide rural customers with four-party or better service; or other facilities to generally improve the quality of service.

In the Western District, part of that investment is represented in improvements in the Harrisonburg toll center, and the addition of cable and central office facilities in most other parts of the area.

"We know we can't meet our customer's needs without putting additional money into service improvement projects; yet we can't build new facilities without capital; and we can't get that capital unless we're earning enough to attract the investor who lends us their funds.

"If what we earn is inadequate in comparison to what other companies earn, then the investor will turn away from us and put his money elsewhere. We simply have to produce adequate earnings in order to provide adequate service. We have an obligation to provide the best, most reliable service possible, but that can only be done if we have the money to do the job," he stressed.

In Memorium

In loving memory of our dear husband, daddy and "PaPa", Hazel L. Campbell, who departed this life two years ago today, May 1, 1975.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall.
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and stilled the heart,
That loved us well and true,
Ah, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.

You are not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children
And Grandchildren. 5-1-1p
